HAVERHILL AT WORK

Dressing for work

Many firms provided clothing for employees.

Addis

Project: "We had a uniform, black trousers and red tee-shirts then a light blue tee-shirt. Everyone looked the same. Those in the office didn't have to wear it. I wore jeans."

Halliburton

Pye: "Different lines had different colours. If I remember correctly, we started off with green and finished up with yellow. All the men had white overalls."

Addis (men): "We generally had overalls, boiler suits or coats and safety shoes."

Delta RA

No jewellery or nail polish… and wellies complete the look at HMP!

Rubbolite: "We wore bright orange tabards… they used to call us 'tango'. A lot of the girls used to finish work about 2 o'clock on a Friday and went down the town. You could see Rubbolite all over – a bright orange!"

Glasswells: "We are supposed to wear white blouses and black or grey suits but in Haverhill we wear black, grey or navy. Glasswells is quite old fashioned… women have only been allowed to wear trousers in the last ten years."
